During her extensive career, Jean has had the privilege of representing generations of clients from the same families. She develops strong relationships with her clients, allowing her to craft estate plans that meet their needs. Jean enjoys advising and assisting clients to achieve their goals; carry out their wishes; and preserve, protect, and pass on their hard-earned assets to their families.

Experience

Jean Hegler concentrates her practice in the areas of estate, gift and trust taxation, estate planning, estate administration, and elder law planning.

Jean has unique experience representing high net worth individuals, trusts, estates, family businesses, and foundations in sophisticated tax planning and administration. She lectures frequently and has authored various legal publications, including a book entitled Wills: Structure, Design & Settlement under New York State Law, and she has also written numerous articles in the national magazine, Trusts & Estates, and various local bar association newspapers.
